

CLRS 15.3-1

Peter Danenberg

September 12, 2008

Enumeration has a multiplicative complexity, internally and externally permuting all left- and right-combinations; whereas `RECURSIVE-MATRIX-CHAIN` independently joins optimal left- and right-solutions, for additive complexity.

`RECURSIVE-MATRIX-CHAIN` is marginally more efficient.